Foreword

Principles

- frequent words and easy sentences
- clear and appealing images
- pronunciation exercises
- special attention for (difficult) sounds
- practising with question and answer
- practising with fill-in sentences
- easy writing exercises

Each lesson consists of the following six elements:

- 1 Words and notions
- 2 Do you hear the sound?
- 3 Listen and read
- 4 Question and answer
- 5 Write and say out loud
- 6 Complete the sentence

By using this book the student will learn approximately 1,000 words that are commonly used in daily life. These words belong to various word types, such as nouns, adjectives, verbs, interrogative words and prepositions.

The student will learn how to pronounce sounds and words. The book includes exercises for choosing the correct sound and meaning. In addition, attention is paid to the pronunciation of short vowels (les), double vowels that are pronounced as one sound (lees) and vowel combinations (huis). The pronunciation of a number of difficult consonant combinations (lang - schil) is addressed as well.

In every lesson the student practises giving answers and completing sentences. In addition, every lesson contains a simple writing exercise.

The twenty lessons can be done by using the book or with the online programme. The audio file that accompanies each lesson can be listened to online or downloaded. Online you'll also find fourteen texts with multiple choice questions that will help you to practise your reading comprehension. See www.nt2school.nl.

Explanation regarding the civic integration exam

The On the way series consists of three parts: On the way, Underway and Road map. The series is aimed at newcomers who have to do the civic integration exam. On the way (0 > A1) and Underway (A1 > A2) are meant to prepare you for the civic integration exam's language elements of reading, listening, speaking and writing.

On the way offers the student an accessible introduction to the Dutch language. In addition, the book provides a good method for people with a low-level education to gain a first insight in the civic integration exam's language elements at language level A1. Each lesson offers a number of exam exercises for the various elements. Each lesson includes the sections 'Question and answer' and 'Complete the sentence'. The answers can be found in the back of the book. There you'll also find several questions with which you can practise giving short answers. In addition, you'll practise (difficult) sounds and words. The online programme also offers a number of exercises in reading comprehension.

Road map will help you to prepare for the KNM (Knowledge of Dutch Society) part of the civic integration exam. To prepare yourself for the new exam element Orientation on the Dutch Labour Market, you can use Working in the Netherlands. You'll find more information at www.nt2.nl.

More information about the exams themselves is available at www.inburgeren.nl.

Good luck!
